Welcoming letter
Nancy Galluchon
President NBFFA

Good morning, everyone, and welcome to the 44th Annual New Brunswick Foster Family Association Conference and Annual General Meeting.

My name is Nancy Galluchon, and it has been an honour to serve as President of the New Brunswick Foster Family Association since 2021.

Today is a wonderful opportunity for us to come together, celebrate the important work we do, learn from one another, and look toward the future.

I want to take a moment to sincerely thank all of our foster families for the incredible commitment you make every day. By opening your homes and your hearts, you provide children in care with something they need so deeply a safe place, caring relationships, stability, and a sense of belonging. The time, patience, compassion, and love you give do not go unnoticed.

I am very proud to see foster parents, social workers, government representatives, and other partners gathered together today. Our work is stronger when we work together. The NBFFA is proud of the relationship we have built with the Province of New Brunswick as we continue to advocate for foster families and work toward better outcomes for children and youth in care.

We have an exciting weekend planned, with presentations, discussions, and opportunities to share ideas and experiences. I encourage you to take the time to meet new people, reconnect with friends and fellow foster families, and speak with representatives from the Department of Social Development and our other guests.

As President, I remain committed to representing foster families across New Brunswick. Along with the directors from each region, I will continue to bring your experiences, concerns, and ideas forward. It is important that your voices are heard and that we continue to work together toward meaningful improvements for foster families and the children we care for.

Most importantly, I want you to know that your dedication matters. Every hug, every conversation, every bedtime story, every moment of patience, and every act of kindness can have a lasting impact on a child's life.

Thank you for the difference you make each and every day.

On behalf of the New Brunswick Foster Family Association, I wish you all a wonderful, informative, and inspiring conference. I hope you enjoy the weekend, make meaningful connections, and leave feeling supported and appreciated.

Welcome to the 44th Annual Conference and AGM. We are so glad you are here.
